

January 9th, 2009

UL Warns of Potentially Hazardous Heat Cap

NORTHBROOK, Ill., January 9, 2009 - Underwriters Laboratories (UL) is notifying consumers and retailers that Heat Caps, manufactured by Specialife Industries, Ltd., may pose a burn hazard to consumers. This product is worn on the head by consumers and used to activate hair conditioner. These heat caps do not comply with UL safety requirements and are not eligible to bear the UL Mark.

Name of Product: Professional Condition Heat Cap, Model HC-626A

Units: Approximately 3,000

Manufacturer: Specialife Industries Ltd.

Date of Manufacture: 2003

Identification of Product: On the product: The product has a label with a UL Mark and the following information:

Packaging:

FRONT

BACK

Model: HC-626A
125 VAC, 50 W
MADE IN CHINA
35UJ

LISTED
E199801

How to determine if your unit is included: Below the words "MADE IN CHINA" appears the date code. If the first digit in the date code starts with the number "3" then your product is included in this notice.

Hazard: These Professional Condition Heat Caps may overheat during use, posing a burn hazard.

What You Should Do: UL recommends that users stop using the product immediately and return it to the place of purchase.