

May 27, 2009

Kobian Recalls XtatiK AC Adapters sold with Portable Travel Power Kit

Toronto, ON – Electrical Safety Authority is notifying the public that Kobian Canada Inc. ("KCI") has announced a voluntary recall of the following consumer product. Consumers should stop using the recalled products immediately.

Name of Product: AC adapter bundled in XtatiK 3-Piece iPod Travel Power Kit.

Units: Approximately 16,000 units of the product were sold in Canada between November 2007 and January 2009 and approximately 10,000 of the units were sold in Ontario.

Manufacturer: The AC Adaptor is manufactured in China by Chuangu Industry Shexen Co. Ltd.

Importer: The AC Adaptor is imported by KCI.

Incidents/Injuries: No known incidents or injuries.

Hazard: The product displays an unauthorized UL mark and it has not been tested to determine whether it is compliant with the Canadian Standards for product safety.

Description/Model: The adapter was bundled together with a USB to iPod connecting cable and a car-charger and sold under the XtatiK brand. The bundled product bears the bar code number 8886383608741.

Sold by: Distributed in Canada by KCI, and sold by Future Shop Canada.

Remedy: If you have purchased or otherwise obtained the product, please contact Kobian Canada Inc. to obtain a replacement product.

Incidents/Injuries: No known incidents or injuries.

Consumer Contact:
 Customer Support
 560 Denison Street Unit 5
 Markham, Ontario
 L3R 2M8
 Phone: (905) 480 0476
 Fax: (905) 948 1601

Remarks: The recalled units are not certified to Canadian Standards.

