Comarco Inc. Announces Voluntary Recall to Replace Targus Power Adapters

Toronto, ON – The Electrical Safety Authority is notifying the public that Comarco Inc. has announced a voluntary recall of the following consumer product. Consumers should stop using recalled products immediately and contact Comarco Inc. to return the affected units to Comarco Inc., and receive a free replacement unit.

Name of Product: Targus Universal Wall Power Adapters for Laptops.

Units: Approximately 3776 in Canada.

Manufacturer/Importer: Comarco Wireless Technologies, Inc., 25541 Commercentre Drive, Lake Forest, CA 92630-8870 USA

Hazard: As a result of poor electrical contact, the connector tips can heat and degrade. The connector tips would be hot to the touch. In some instances, the heat can cause melting or charring of the plastic encasing the connector tip.

Incidents/Injuries: Comarco Inc. has received indirect reports of 518 incidents in the United States, of which 8 consumers reported the tip was hot enough to “burn” a finger tip or hand when the part was checked or disconnected. There are no reports of any injury requiring medical care or of any other injury. No reports of injury or property damage have been reported in Canada.

Description/Models: The recall affects certain Targus-branded universal power adapters for laptops that were sold at retail through March 10, 2010 with the model numbers: APA23US-02, APA23US-03, APA23US-04,

APA63US-03, APA63US-04, APM62US-03 and APM62US-04. (The photograph below shows where the model number (the SKU#) can be found on the underside of the adapter unit.)

Sold by: Wal-Mart Canada Corp.

When was distributed: The affected units were distributed from August 2009 through March 10, 2010.

Manufactured in: China

Remedy: Consumers who have in their possession an affected unit should stop using the unit immediately and contact Comarco to return the affected unit and receive a replacement unit.

Consumer Contact: For additional information, visit Comarco’s website for this recall, at www.regcen.com/comarco (available 24/7) or call toll-free 1-877-781 5186, between 7 a.m. and 6 p.m., Central Time, Monday through Friday. Please have your adapter available when using the website or toll free number, to provide the model and serial numbers.
