

December 4, 2012

Canadian Tire Voluntarily Recalls Mastercraft MX Impact Wrench Due to Inaccurate Torque Reading on Digital Display

The Electrical Safety Authority is notifying the public that Canadian Tire Corporation, Limited in conjunction with its vendor, Jinding Group Co., has announced a voluntary recall of the following consumer product. Consumers should stop using recalled products immediately.

Name of Product: Mastercraft MX Impact Wrench (product number 54-1265).

Units: Approximately 17, 812 units were sold in Canada.

Manufacturer: Jinding Group Co.

Importer: Canadian Tire Corporation, Limited.

Manufactured in: China.

Hazard: This recall is being initiated as a precautionary measure due to a risk of inaccurate calibration reading on the digital display.

Incidents/Injuries: Canadian Tire has received 2 reported incidents in which the bolts on the tires were not tightened according to the calibration on the digital display. No injuries have been reported as a result of this defect.

Description/Models: This recall involves the Mastercraft MX Impact Wrench with digital display. The digital impact wrench features adjustable torque, 8.5A, 1/2" (1.3 cm) square drive with ball detent, digital control: push-button control of torque in 5 ft-lb increments (80-350 ft-lbs), torque is displayed on LCD panel - back lit panel display flashes when desired torque is achieved.

Sold by: Canadian Tire.

When distributed: The recalled products were sold from October 2010 – October 2012.

Remedy: Customers are being asked to discontinue using the Mastercraft MX Impact wrench and return it to any Canadian Tire store for a refund.

Consumer Contact: Customers are asked to visit their local Canada Tire store.

Remarks: The recalled units are certified to Canadian Standards by Intertek Testing Services. For more information about Intertek Testing Services product certification process please visit: www.Intertek.com

December 4, 2012

